Sector
Type of Incident Freedom Convoy
Location Ottawa

Brief Synopsis

The NCRCC is operational. There are no protestors on Parliament Hill and there are thousands of vehicles parked on roadways through the downtown core. The same road closures remain in place.

Staffing shortages overnight and in the early morning which lead to some traffic posts being unstaffed. This had created some challenges with early morning commuters which members are currently working to address.

Parliament will be sitting today and MP's will be exercising Parliamentary Privilege for unfettered access. We are working with our RCMP and PPS partners to create access strategies based on the fluid traffic situations.

There is a notable increase in regular commuter traffic which is encountering challenges in navigating the traffic density, increasing driver frustrations.

The Service Command Centre is working to build new contingencies for staffing and logistics for sustainability, inclusive of the ongoing participation of the OPP in security and traffic in the core.
